LOOP CHRONICLES

BOOK TWO

The Weeping Ledger

In Haven, no one suffers for long. That is the problem.

Zeteo and his sister Elpis flee the brickfields and fall into a city whose Ledger resolves every grief the moment it is filed. Nothing goes unanswered. Nothing is ever heard.

Zeteo does not believe, and he has reasons. This book does not hurry to take them from him. It follows two children looking for a father who came out of the well without his name.
