LOOP CHRONICLES

BOOK FOUR

The Gleaning Ground

The law says leave the corners of the field. The Roll keeps that law perfectly. Nothing falls.

Xene follows her widowed mother-in-law into the Harvest knowing what it will cost. At the gate the Roll computes her standing and returns zero. Nobody drives her out. They simply give her nothing.

Lytron has never done anything wrong, and it takes him a season to see that this and never having lost anything are the same fact from two sides.
